

Guidelines and FAQ for Individual Membership New and Renewal Application

What is the QLHF?

The Queensland Living History Federation (QLHF) was formed well over a decade ago to provide a peak body for living history and re-enactment in Queensland. Initially only living history and re-enactment groups were able to join the QLHF however this was changed in 2005 to automatically include any individual who was a member of a group that is a member of the QLHF.

The QLHF performs a number of key activities including: providing insurance for its members, working closely with government (including Police and Customs) to ensure we are able to pursue our hobby, assist show/event organisers as requested and it conducts History Alive at Fort Lytton. With the commencement of a paid administrator we are looking to enhance the range of member services including the negotiation of discounts for our members.

Why do I need to join?

If you have re-enacted in Queensland, then it is most likely that you have been a member of the QLHF. In the past member groups have collected the annual administration and insurance contribution on behalf of individuals and forwarded this to the QLHF. This fee has been a part of your group membership fee. The collection process changed in 2009 to direct individual membership. To participate in the activities of member groups of the ALHF and QLHF you need to be a member of the QLHF. Participation in events such as Abbey, Armidale, History Alive and your group shows and performance requires everyone to have public liability and other insurances. Membership of the QLHF provides this.

Individual membership will minimise the issues associated with making sure people are covered by insurance and is no different to joining a trades union, professional association or SSAA.

How do I join?

There are two ways of joining/renewing your membership.

Option 1: complete the attached form & mail it to the QLHF along with your individual membership fee.

Option 2: complete an online registration and pay your individual membership fees online.

Membership of a Group

To be eligible to join the QLHF and retain membership you must be a financial member of a living history, re-enactment or historical society / group that is a member of QLHF. Member groups are listed on the website at www.qlhf.org.au.

Do Children need to be members?

Yes! Children in the care of a parent or guardian need to be recorded as members for the purpose of public liability insurance.
